

Cliffs Residents Outreach Quotes from Upstate School Superintendents

Quote from Dr. Burke Royster, Superintendent of Greenville County Schools:

"Members of Cliffs Residents Outreach have poured tremendous resources into a number of Greenville County Schools in the northern part of our county, providing academic enrichment opportunities for students, necessities for families in crisis, tutoring and pantry items for students in poverty, and programs for at risk youth. Their generosity has funded a diverse variety of items, from playground equipment, Chrome books, charging carts, athletic and weight room equipment, emergency funding for families in crisis, and field trip sponsorships, to food pantries for families facing hunger. Without a doubt, the entire Greenville County population owes a debt of gratitude to Cliffs Residents Outreach for their enthusiastic support of this community's most precious resource – our children."

Quote from Dr. Michael Thorsland, Superintendent of Oconee County Schools:

"Several years ago, Tamassee-Salem Elementary benefited from the "One for All" program that provided a technology device for every student at the school. This program was funded by the Cliffs Residents Outreach and was very successful in helping many students get a leg up academically that they would not have gotten otherwise. After this early success at TSE, our district is now in the process of providing a technology device for each student in all of our schools. We are very thankful for the commitment that the Cliffs Residents Outreach has shown by helping students in Oconee County and look forward to many years of working together to help students and their families."

Quote from Dr. Danny Merck, Superintendent of Pickens County Schools:

The School District of Pickens County appreciates the support of the Cliffs Residents Outreach program and what it has provided to our school district. Our students are benefiting from the AT & T grant which began with the efforts of the Cliffs Residents Outreach. In addition to the AT & T grant support, Cliffs Residents Outreach provided a lovely reception following the AT & T announcement for our schools and community members, provided 1:1 devices and the PALS (Parents As Learners) program at Holly Springs Elementary School and now is continuing the efforts at Pickens Elementary School. Our district is grateful for the time, support and partnership of the Cliffs Residents Outreach program and what they have contributed to our kids and schools."
